

Weekend at Tulliallan, October 8th – 10th

We hope you will be able to join us at the residential weekend for the Scottish Recorder orchestra at Tulliallan Police College from October 8th – 10th. Eileen Silcocks will lead the weekend. We meet at Tulliallan in time for the evening meal on Friday, October 8th. (timetable to follow) We play on Friday evening, all day Saturday, except for the afternoon and on Sunday till about teatime. All accommodation at Tulliallan is in single en-suite rooms and costs per person for the weekend are as follows:

Single: £120

Non resident: t.b.c. So far Tulliallan have given me prices of £40 for Saturday and £30 for Sunday. I'm still waiting to find out a cost for the evening meal on Friday and will know next week.

Tuition fees will be £35 making a total of £155 for residents and around £115 – 120 for non-residents. Tuition fees are less this year as we only have one tutor, the residential rate has risen only £5 and the day rate has risen rather a lot. There are new caterers at the college, but I don't know how they differ from last year's. To those of you who were concerned about the lack of vitamin C last year, I suggest you take fruit with you.

This year I am experimenting with having no booking form. I know all the addresses, email addresses and dietary requirements, so long as they haven't changed. So if you went to Tulliallan last year or Carberry the year before either:

- a. Send me the money, payable to SRO
- or b. send me a confirmatory email and pay me on Sept 12th.

If you are new to the orchestra or not a member please send all details with a cheque payable to SRO, particularly your email address and any dietary requirements you may have for your weekend.

I must have all money by Sept 12th.
